GWITHIAN CLASS UPDATE

Gwithian Class have made a start to the mining topic with the question being, 'Thinking about the past, present and future, why is mining important in Cornwall?'

The children are learning a lot about mining through our daily reading sessions and the class story, 'The Fate of Jeremy Visick'. They have all painted landscapes, showing Cornish engine houses, in a variety of artistic styles.

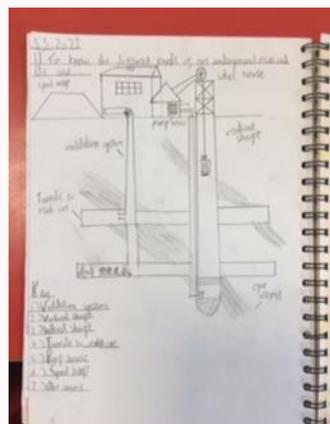

We are looking forward to the visit to Geevor mine next half-term and prior to this, we will have a visit from a gentleman called Clint, who brings all his knowledge of mining to share with the children as well as a selection of Cornish artefacts for them to handle and wear. It's really good to be getting back to the trips out and having visitors that helps the children's learning of the projects real and more exciting.

Our PE sessions have included athletics and tennis. The children's teamwork and enthusiasm throwing, jumping and on the track is a joy to be part of. It's great to be back to being a whole class team.

In our class, as part of a project that I'm trialing, we are completing our maths homework differently.

This is giving the children the chance to learn vocabulary linked to the subject and learn some new facts, prior to the weekly learning in that subject. It is called flipped learning. This is completed on seesaw. I must say that so far, it seems to be proving a success as the majority of children seem to like it and seem more confident when starting the new unit of work for that week. I would like to thank the parents for helping me with this project.

SUPERHEROES

Perran and Prussia Cove Classes had a great day dressing up as comic book superheroes and real life heroes! We were sent on a mission to find escapees in our outdoor area as The Evil Pea had opened the freezers in the school kitchen and we had to rescue them! You'll be glad to know that no peas were hurt in this process and the rest of the school got their roast dinner as planned because of our superhero learners!

Thank goodness!
